

BUILDING AN INTERNATIONAL TRADE UNION TRAINING STRATEGY TO FACE UP TO THE NEW FORMS OF FASCISM IN WORKPLACES AND SOCIETY

By the network Redes

7 OCTOBER 2022 - 14.30 - 17.30

CGIL, CORSO ITALIA 25, ROME, ITALY

*REDES is an initiative promoted by CUT/Chile, CTA-T Argentina, CUT Brazil, CCOO Spain and Cgil with the aim of sharing experiences and information on the labour world in their respective countries and organizations, promoting training and trade union exchanges of practices.

Opening remarks:

Maurizio Landini, CGIL General Secretary

UNDERSTANDING

- the Italian right and its European and international connections;
- the training experience initiated by the British trade union;
- the regional context of South America: Argentina, Brazil, Chile;
- early assessments of right-wing policies in regional governments in Spain.

TAKING ACTION

- how to build a training programme with an international horizon to train new union officers to relate to the growing neo-fascist culture (racism, violence, populism, denialism, xenophobia, homophobia,).
- how to communicate with new digital media, how to intercept the attention of young people, those entering the world of work; what language and communication forms to use?

Working languages: Italian, Spanish (Castillano), English
